

ONE PAPER

TRY IT

During group work, give each group one sheet of paper and have each student use a different color to show their contributions.

WHY TRY IT?

- Encourages collaboration
- Highlights individual student contributions
- Provides insight into group participation

TEACHER NOTES

Make expectations for participation clear so each student contributes to the shared work. Remind students that groups may produce multiple valid solutions or strategies. When collecting the papers, notice patterns in participation and collaboration.

CAUTION

Be aware of papers that are mostly written in one color.
